Hamish has been a GP in Bridlington, East Yorkshire, since 1978 and is still active in clinical practice despite his election as Chairman of BMA Council, in 2007. He's been involved in local hospital management and LMC in the 80s, before joining GPC in 1991 following the imposition of the Ken Clarke contract. He was Chairman, East Yorkshire LMC 1996-99. He was part of the GPC team that negotiated the new GMS contract and was Chairman of the GPC from 2004-07. During his time as Chairman of the BMA, he is keen to ensure that both the organisation and the profession are best prepared to meet the challenges of ensuring the doctors are supported and fairly rewarded in delivering the highest possible quality care to their patients
